Middlebury Out-classes Rival Team but Lose the Game on Flux.

Middlebury Line Strong—Open Game Played Throughout Contest—Game Should Have Been Middlebury's.

Amherst, Nov. 7, In a hard-fought battle, ragged at times on both sides, but in which Middlebury clearly outclassed the heavier team of the Massachusetts Agricultural College at Amherst, the latter team were victors by the score of 7-0. The Middlebury line put up a strong game, as they did against the Springfield team a week ago. but the back field was rather loose. Twenty-one forward passes were attempted by the Middlebury team, six of which were successful; the M. A. C. team successfully worked two out of eight attempted forward passes. A pass intercepted by Darling of M. A. C., who ran 85 yards for a touchdown, lost the game for Middlebury. Middlebury was penalized 75 yards during the game. She played an open game throughout the contest.

Middlebury kicked off to the M. A. C. 20-yard line and the ball was run back 20 yards. M. A. C. then made 25 yards in three rushes, and eight more on a forward pass, bringing the ball to Middlebury's 23-yard line. Here M. A. C. was penalized five yards for offside and on the next play Palmer tried a field goal, which failed, the ball going to Middlebury on its 20-yard line. After bringing the ball to the 38-yard line and failing in two attempts at forward passes, Middlebury was forced to punt to Massachusetts, the ball being returned to the 45-yard line. On a line plunge through center M. A. C. made three yards and a forward pass to Plaisted netted 13 more. In a series of rushes the Massachusetts men brought the ball to Middlebury's one-yard line, where they were held for downs. Middlebury kicked out to the 46-yard line, and on the next play intercepted a M. A. C. forward pass, making first down on the 25-yard line. A line rush netted three yards, and the quarter ended with the ball in Middlebury's possession on her own 28-yard line.

In the second period Middlebury rushed the ball to the 40-yard line, where Massachusetts held. Middlebury then punted to Murphy and a forward pass on the next play brought the ball to the 20-yard line. Unable to gain, Massachusetts punted to Middlebury's 40-yard line. After trying twice to gain through the line, the visitors made a pretty forward pass, which netted them 20-yards. In four rushes they advanced 20 yards, where they attempted another forward pass. It didn't work, however, and Darling caught the ball on the 10-yard line, running the whole length of the field for a touchdown. Palmer kicked the goal. With only a minute left to play, Middlebury kicked off to M. A. C., who brought the pigskin to the 45-yard line just as the half ended.

Opening the second half, Massachusetts kicked off to Middlebury, and the runner was downed on his 20-yard line. By a combination of forward passes and end runs, the Vermont players worked the ball to M. A. C.'s 30-yard line, where Palmer recovered a forward pass. After three attempts to gain the distance, Massachusetts punted and Middlebury rushed back as far as the 45-yard line, where the period ended.

In the last period, Middlebury made first down on three line plays, but was penalized 15 yards for holding. After making three yards more, the visitors were again penalized for the same offense, and forced to punt, M. A. C. taking the ball on the 40-yard line. Line plunges advanced the Massachusetts team to the visitors' 40-yard line, where Parker of Middlebnry intercepted a forward pass and made a gain of 15 yards. On the next play, Darling caught one of Middlebury's passes and the march down the field began. Massachusetts rushed the ball by end plays to Middlebury's nine-yard line, where it was again held for downs. The visitors then took the ball out to the 20-yard line, and on the next play made 25 yards by a clever forward pass. Three more passes were tried and the fourth was caught by Darling on his 35-yard line, just as the game ended.

The all-around playing of Darling and Dole was conspicuous for Massachusetts, while Bresnahan, Lamere, Fish and Horsford starred for the visitors. Lineup:

SECOND TEAM TIES ST. MICHAEL'S

Stormy Day and Wet Field Causes Ragged Game.

On a day replete with rain and snow storms, a field heavy with mud, with a small crowd of supporters, and a cold north wind, the Middlebury Second team under Captain Harrison held the strong St. Michael's college team to a tie score.

The game started in a heavy snow storm with "Bill" Sistaire booting the pigskin to the visitors five yard line, where it was run back twenty-five yards by St. Michael's. St. Michaels started a march up the field thru the line and round the ends which caused a great deal of dismay among the Middlebury supporters. On Midd's thirty-five yard line the Winooski players met with a strong resistance. The ball went to Midd and the first quarter ended with the ball out of the danger zone.

The second quarter was full of old style football, the visitors plugging the line and running ends. Several passes failed to work and the period ended without score.

In the beginning of the second half, the Middlebury team played good football until a thirty yard pass from the quarterback to the right half back which should have been intercepted, was caught and the visitors were permitted to score. St. Michaels failed to kick the goal. Score 6—0.

In the last quarter Midd showed its best football of the game in the offensive and several long runs by Robinson, a cleverly executed pass from "Robbie" to Good, and an "end around end" play brought the ball to St. Michael's three yard line. Here Midd's quarter went thru the line for a touchdown.

The game was marked by many fumbles, due perhaps to the condition of the ball, by the defensive work of Brentano and Parker, and by the splendid carrying of the ball by Robinson.

Middlebury.

Noble and stately, bright and fair,
Upon New England's sunny steep,
Seated in thy marble chair,
May your watch forever keep.

Where e'er thy sons and daughters roam,
Thru distant land, mid foreign clime,
In every longing thought of home,
Thy image stands sublime.

A century's honors rest on thee
Enshrined among the mountains green,
Deserving all men's loyalty;
Of colleges, the Queen!

EDITORIAL.

We have met with a most generous response from one of our faculty to the editorial published in the last issue of the CAMPUS asking for financial aid from those interested in the success of a college paper,

However, the giver has requested that no mention be made of his name, but we would like to express, even if necessarily in an indefinite manner, our gratitude for the gift and our appreciation of the spirit which prompted the giver.

The CAMPUS is struggling under a rather heavy load, encumbered as it is with the debts of past years. To-day, however, the CAMPUS is better than self-supporting and gradually is liquidating her debts, at the terrible cost, however, of her further expansion.

Dartmouth, when the size of Middlebury, supported a weekly and a monthly magazine. Middlebury shall do likewise as soon as a shoulder sufficiently strong shall be brought to bear on that particular wheel which governs our literary machinery. In the meantime let us all give a push in the right direction and help things along.

Once again we thank our benefactor.

Did you notice our "open-to-all" column? All suggestions, criticisms—adverse or complimentary, or, in a word, anything you wish to say to a CAMPUS reader will be published without a signature in the column.

We desire thereby to find a means to an exchange of ideas. We thought at first of calling it a "crab" column for we expect most of the contributions will be of that nature, but that it may not be limited to "crabby" articles alone we have changed the name. Let us hear from you.

CURRENT EVENTS.

Congress has been perplexed over the question whether or not to raise money by requiring a two cent revenue stamp on all bank checks.

Some of the members strongly favor the proposal, on the general ground that anybody who is rich enough to have a bank account can afford to pay two cents tax on each check.

Probably that is true. But that is not the real point. The great objection to a tax on checks is that it tends to make people use checks less and cash more. That puts an extra and needless strain on the limited supply of cash and tends to make money "tight," But some of the banks have coolly accepted the Government's cash without giving their customers any of the benefit. The treasury money will be deposited in banks that show more willingness to help business out of the tight market brought on by the European war.

How fast does a base ball travel when it leaves the bat.

Of course the speed varies with the force of the batting, the direction taken by the ball, and other considerations; but the question is intended to refer to well-batted infield grounders only.

When the question was put to "fans" they guessed anywhere from 30 to 300 miles an hour.

A Scientific American writer has lately tried the stop-watch on such batted balls and finds that they have about the same speed of a fast express train, averaging around 66 miles an hour or 88 feet per second.

Governor Glynn of New York caused a sensation by declaring that his State is borrowing $12,000,000 to build roads which will have worn out forty years before they are paid for.

The Administration at Washington is vigorously objecting to a proposed law in Cuba, by which 1500 murderers and other homicides now in prison would be set free. The bill has already passed the lower house of the Cuban Congress.

The President of the Republic of China, Gen. Yuan Shi-Kai, has sent a message of peace and good will to this country, asking for better trade relations and a larger commerce between China and the United States.

"Made in America."

There is a nation-wide movement to take advattage of the present state of foreign trade, to build up a national habit of buying things "made in America" in preference to thlngs made abroad.

Better than any protective tariff would be such a habit on the part of the American people.

Hundreds of millions of dollars have been sent out of the country.

Did you ever write a story or a poem? Why don't you begin now and send it in to the CAMPUS? We are not very critical, as you've probably notlced, not because we wouldn't like to show ability along those lines, but because hitherto we have had little opportunity to select articles and still run a paper. Also, we like to encourage outside contributors. Blank verse is particularly simple for poetry.

OPEN TO ALL

It has been suggested that something should be done by the village to improve the crossing on College street opposite the residence of Dr. Thomas. Needless to say that those who find it necessary to use the crossing each day would appreciate a change in this crossing. The condition of the street at this point well exemplifies the condition of Middlebury streets when a now well-known and honored alumnus entered his freshman year at Middlebury. The boy was heard to say, as he made his way up the campus, "Middlebury, Middlebury? Why didn't they name this place 'Muddlebury' ?"

Prof. Royce loaned the girls a number of his choice Victrola records for over Sunday. As the records we have at present are very limited in number the kindness was much appreciated.

I wonder if the alumni are aware of the wonderful improvement in facilities for carrying on athletics at Middlebury? This factor alone, in the growth of the college is enough to bring credit upon the leader of our institution, who, it may easily be seen, has never limited his activities at the college to any one line. When the present senior class entered Middlebury the gymnasium was just completed. The track was just a cowpath around a humpy, soggy, weed-covered diamond and gridiron. The bleachers were very nearly useless. Athletes had very little encouragement in the way of equipment and were obliged to furnish most of their necessary equipment themselves. To-day we have a beautiful athletic field and track, surrounded by an ornamental high picket fence, with an artistic roadway leading to the highway. The "Gym" is well fitted, the bleachers, now better than ever before, are soon to be replaced by a modern cement grand stand with shower baths and dressing rooms. A band stand has been provided on the field, where a most satisfactory band, first organized and uniformed five years ago by Assistant Dean Wiley, then an undergraduate, does excellent service at every contest. Coaches for football and base ball are provided and we hope soon to have a track coach. A much more satisfactory equipment for practice has been provided.

The football team this year will be given sweaters. Blankets have been provided by interested ladies about the college.

All these improvements have meant much, and the college is to be congratulated for the gifts she has received, but the greatest improvement, the one for which the greatest congratulations should be offered, and the most thanks be given, is the acquisition of a new College Spirit. Born but recently in the hearts of loyal Middleburyites, and fostered by the college Union, it has thrived and grown and bids fair soon to conquer all remaining vestiges of fraternal jealousy and individual heroism, and unite the college even more firmly in a oneness of spirit, purpose and accomplishment, and mold the children of the college into a more perfect type of clean, moral, American manhood and womanhood. This is the function of the athletic department, it is the function of the Union. Rejoice that both have prospered well.

Jedediah-Muckledame.

Room 32, Pearsons, was the scene of a very pretty home wedding on November 6, when Samanthy Ann, only daughter of Mr. Mugwump Muckledame, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Jeremiah Jedediah of Rutland, Va. The bride was becomingly gowned in white cotton, with a point d'esprit veil, and carried a shower bouquet of barberry. The Right Rev. Bishop Bliss performed the ceremony, the sacredness of which was broken by prolonged titters. Miss Sepaphino Buonarenti was the bride's sole attendant, while Mr. Grousnor Van Hunkleburg assumed the arduous duties of best man. (Music was furnished by the Comalin duo). The double ring service was used to tie the cords sufficiently. After a short congratulatory service and a flashlight taken by the eminent photographer of this noble city, the bride and groom, accompanied by the other principals, left on the 7:40 train for "Modeant Tableau."

N. B. The presents were very beautiful, especially the bridesmaid's, a diamond horse shoe; and the groom's gift to the best man, an ebony and diamond scarf pin. The wedding cake was a failure for it gave the guests atrocious dreams.

The girls of fourth and those of third
In angry tumult lately mingle.
The righteous cause perhaps you've heard
That scandalous bit of CAMPUS jingle.

When in the third floor hallway long,
Come trooping out the girls so gay
Then bright Penelope's siren song
Sounds the signals for the fray.

And from the regions at the top
The merry ha—ha's ring aloud,
Then stately seniors 'gin to hop
And rush aloft to square the crowd.

There's something lacking surely now
When third and fourth bring up the rear
And growling victors show them how
To make the noise that drums the ear.

3. A student shall be conditioned whose combined recitation and examination mark at the close of a semester or of a study is below 60 per cent, unless the examination mark be as high as 70 per cent; but no student shall be allowed to pass whose examination mark is below 50 per cent.

5. A student who fails to attain a passing grade in three or more courses in any semester shall be summoned before the Adminstration Committee to show cause why he should not be dropped from college.

A student who is conditioned at the close of the second semester may take an examination on such one of the first three days of the college year as shall be determined by the Registrar, or on the first day after the Christmas recess. No other opportunities for the removal of conditions will be given, except in the following cases:

(b) A senior may take an examina- for each deficiency, or condition, on the Saturday preceding Commencement.

(c) If the course in which a student has been conditioned is given in the Summer Session, he may remove the condition by taking that course and passing at its colse an examination which will be based upon the regular college course and, if possible, be set by the instructor who imposed the condition.

7. Any student failing to make up a condition as provided for above must repeat the subject with the following class if the course is a required one, even though, from conflict of hours, or any other cause, it necessitates for him the temporary omission of some of the regular work of his class.

New Midd. Song.

We are publishing below the words of a new Middlebury march which will be brought out at the Smoker this week and sung at the Norwich game. The words were written by Mrs. Edgar (Harwood) Wiley, '12. The music is from the Trio of W. M. B. March written by R. B. Hall.

Cheer! Give three cheers for Midd. boys!
Shout! If ever you did.
The blue and white are out for fight,
And we are bound to make { a touch down / a run now.

Shout! Shout! And make one big noise.
Fight! Fight! With all your might boys.
Midd has the stuff,
And Midd sure is going to win.

8. A student conditioned in a required subject, or allowed to postpone a required subject, must obtain credit in it at the earliest opportunity presented, even though the subject should have in the meantime become an elective.

9. No student with an unremoved entrance condition will be advanced beyond freshman rank. A student with no unremoved entrance condition and with 24 points to his credit at the beginning of a college year will be ranked as a sophomore for that year; one with 54 points, a junior; one with 84 points, a senior. A student who is ranked as a junior, but who, at the beginning of the second semester, has 99 points to his credit, will be granted senior privileges if his purpose is to secure a degree at the next Commencement.

10. A student who is excusably absent from examination at the close of a semester will be required to pass that examination at or before the beginning of the corresponding semester of the following year. If the student fails to meet this requirement, he must repeat the course with the following class if the subject is a required one.

11. Students in the first semester of the freshman year are limited to five courses. To take six courses in any subsequent semester, a student must have attained an average of 75 per cent in the courses of the previous semester, a condition or an exclusion through either Attendance Rule 9 or Examinations Rule 2 being counted as 50 per cent; to take seven courses, he must have obtained an average of 80 per cent.

12. Credits for more than three courses will not be given an undergraduate at a Summer Session.

13. Students obliged to absent themselves from college for a determined period of time may obtain from the Dean the privilege of appearing for examination in subjects previously specified. The length and character of such examinations are determined by the instructor, and a grade of 75 per cent is required. Resident students will not be given credit for work done outside of class.

14. Any scholarship may be forfeited at any time during the course through negligence or misconduct. When a student incurs more than one condition in any semester, or when he receives a second warning because of unexcused delinquencies, the scholarship allowance for that semester is thereby forfeited.

MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE

ESTABLISHED IN 1800

DURING THE LAST COLLEGE YEAR the men of the college, of all fraternities and no fraternity, rallied together to form a "MIDDLEBURY UNION", a social and religious organization of all the men. Their purpose was to promote their mutual welfare and to further all college interests. The success of the Union has been noteworthy. The college has been brought together, jealousies have been discouraged, and a wholesome college spirit has been promoted. Rooms were needed for meetings and social purposes. During the summer the college fitted up three convenient rooms on the lower floor of Painter Hall. A generous friend, who had observed the Union's good work, gave $150 for the purchase of furniture. There is still needed:

1. A PIANO. Hasn't some friend an instrument they could spare?
2. A TROPHY CASE for foot and base balls with winning scores inscribed thereon.
3. OLD CLASS PICTURES or other articles of historic interest suitable for decoration.

JOHN M. THOMAS, President.

Freshman Debate.

The first of a series of debates by members of the Freshman Debating union was held on Oct. 30th in the chapel. President Creed presided and in the absence of Professor Wetherell, Beaumont '18, acted as critic. The question debated upon was: Resolved, That Compulsory Military Training Be Adopted in the United States. Speakers for the affirmative were: Green, Shedd and Lyons. For the negative: Holden, Drew and Mara, Drew and Lyons rebutting. The judges were Day, 15, Penniman '15, and Monahan '15 who rendered a decision in favor of the affirmative side.

Blankets for Team.

An announcement was made in chapel Monday morning by Physical Director Ray L. Fisher to the effect that a gift of twenty blankets for the foot-ball squad has been made by faculty ladies, alumnae and other ladies connected with the college, exclusive of undergraduates. That the gift was a most acceptable one was manifested by the round of applause which followed the announcement. The football men are particularly appreciative of the gift, for only those who play the game can appreciate the comfort and protection which the ladies have afforded them.

The following letters from the Manager of the Springfield, Y. M. C. A. College team which played in Middlebury October 31st, have been received by Manager Cabot.

Manager Foot ball Team,
Middlebury College.
Dear Sir:—

I want to take this opportunity to thank you and all the Middlebury men for the royal manner in which you showed your good will towards us. All the men unite with me in saying it was the best trip they have experienced."— — — —

Trusting that the pleasant relations renewed Saturday may continue I am,

Yours very truly,
PETER J. VANGEYT.

Dear Sir:—

I made it a point to get the returns of your game with the Aggies and it is with great pleasure that I congratulate you on your game with them. I had honestly believed that they would roll up a score on you. I take it for granted that some of that sterling defence you showed when we had the ball within your five yard zone was again in evidence.— — — —

Yours very truly,
PETER J. VANGEYT.

ALBANY LAW SCHOOL

The course of study leading to the degree of L. L. B. extends over a period of three years. Students who have pursued one or two years in a law office may enter the second year class as a candidate for a diploma but not a degree.

The high standard of the school and the facilities which the city affords with its legislature, libraries and courts, offer unequalled opportunity for a thorough and practical training.
